CAMPING PROVIDES an Escape FROM UNCERTAINTY

There has never been a better time to be a camper! To say that the last year has been challenging would be a huge understatement. Restrictions on entertainment options, interruptions in employment, and concerns over personal safety have had a major effect on our lives. But for many, camping has provided much-needed relief in otherwise troubling times. A survey of recent campers offered the following comments:

"Camping was the best thing we did! It saved our summer and my sanity to have somewhere other than our normal home to go."

"We were first-time campers this season, and it saved our summer. We can't wait to do it again next year!"

"Our camper got us outdoors more than usual. We absolutely love it, the park, and fellow campers. Thanks for saving our sanity this crazy year!"

When outdoor recreation is deemed healthier than staying indoors, it's hard to think of a better alternative than a camping vacation – whether it's for all summer, a week, or just a weekend getaway. Families can safely bond around a campfire, go for a hike, or take a golf cart excursion around the park.

Many popular camping activities make it easy to maintain social distancing. Cornhole, swimming, and fishing are often listed as favorite campground activities in which all can participate while keeping a proper distance from others. Spread out your camp chairs and visit with neighbors. Go on a scavenger hunt or decorate your campsite in a holiday theme. An evening of bingo can even be played while sitting apart from others.

Not only is camping a healthier alternative to many other vacation options, but it's more affordable as well. Studies show that camping is one of the least expensive vacations a family can take. In times of economic uncertainty, families can try camping for the first time with as little as a tent and a few basic sleeping and cooking supplies.

So when life around you gets a little crazy, remember there is still a safe and affordable vacation option that can help you get away from it all. Whether you're an experienced seasonal camper or a novice looking for a new adventure, you'll find over 140 members of the Ohio Campground Owners Association who are qualified and ready to serve you!

tips for camping with a BABY

Consider these tips to make your trip with a newborn more enjoyable.

1. Choose a nearby campground to limit travel stress, and to make the trip home easier if things don't go as well as planned.

2. Pick a campsite with basic amenities nearby, such as bathroom and play area, rather than a primitive site.

3. Find a site that provides shade and dress your baby in layers to maximize comfort.

tips for camping in RAINY weather

It never hurts to be prepared if the climate turns wet.

1. Bring plenty of waterproof containers or bags to store your gear.
2. Placing doormats inside and outside your camping unit door will minimize mud and debris.
3. Pack some meals that don't need cooked, in case it's too nasty to cook outside.

CAN OWNING AN RV Save Money?

A new study has found that RV vacations cost much less than other types of vacation travel, even when factoring in fuel prices and the cost of RV ownership. According to the study, commissioned by Go RVing and the RV Industry Association, there are cost savings of 21-64% for a four-person travel party, while a two-person travel party saves 8-53%, depending on factors such as the type of RV and type of vacation.

"The study reaffirms that RVs are a great way to save on family travel, and it's equally important to remember that RV ownership provides benefits that go well beyond affordability," said RV Industry Association president Frank Hugelmeyer. "To take an RV trip is to experience togetherness with family and friends, along with the flexibility to travel whenever and wherever you want."

The study compared different methods of travel, including a folding camping trailer; a lightweight travel trailer; a compact motorhome; a type C motorhome; a type A motorhome; traveling in a personal car, staying at hotels/motels, and eating meals in a restaurant; traveling by airline, renting a car at the destination, staying at hotels/motels, and eating meals in restaurants; and traveling in a personal car or airline (as appropriate), staying at a rental house/condominium, and eating the majority of meals in the rental unit. The type A motorhome, typically the largest and most luxurious RV, was compared to travel options such as flying first class, renting a premium car, staying in upscale hotels/resorts, and eating meals in restaurants.

RV vacations show a clear family budget benefit over other forms of travel, regardless of the RV type. According to the CBRE analysis, a four-person travel party can expect to save (by unit type):

- Folding camping trailer: 50-64%
- Lightweight travel trailer: 31-50%
- Compact motorhome: 31-50%
- Type C motorhome: 21-43%
- Type A motorhome: 41%

A two-person travel party saved, according to the CBRE analysis:

- Folding camping trailer: 43-53%
- Lightweight travel trailer: 20-34%
- Compact motorhome: 20-34%
- Type C motorhome: 8-24%
- Type A motorhome: 19%

The study included analysis of how fluctuations in fuel prices could affect the economic advantages of RV travel.

"While fuel costs are a component of the overall vacation cost, they aren't significant enough to materially affect the outcome of our analysis," said Kannan Sankaran, managing director of CBRE's Advisory Services, and lead researcher.

Research by Go RVing and the RV Industry Association shows that when fuel prices are higher, RVers save on fuel costs by driving fewer miles, taking trips closer to home, and staying longer in one destination.

CAMPER'S CODE

CONSIDERATE
I will be considerate of other campers by respecting their rights. I will be courteous in my dealings with other campers, respect their privacy, be in control of my children, and make sure my pets are on leashes and cleaned up after.

Personal Space Consideration
I will respect other campers by not walking through their campsite. Likewise, I will keep my camping equipment on my site and not on any of my neighbors.

Music / Noise Consideration
I will be courteous to my neighbors by observing quiet times. Regarding music, your neighbors should not be able to hear it. If they can, then you need to ask them if they prefer quiet or the music. Do not assume, but do respect their answer. Same goes for loud voices. See that your fun does not get in the way of your fellow campers.

CAUTION
I will always use caution with my camping equipment and always handle fuel and fire with the respect it demands.

CLEANLINESS
I will teach my children the importance of keeping our campsite clean. I will pick up litter and keep my area in a way that I can be proud of.

CONSERVE
I will protect the environment and help guard our natural resources. I will strive to leave the environment, and in particular my area, in a way that is pleasing to those who follow.

COMMON SENSE
I will always try to use common sense in every situation and think things through before reacting rashly.

COOPERATE
I will cooperate with others in the campground and share the responsibilities that are a part of the camping experience. And I will obey the campground's rules and regulations.

I will be considerate of other campers around me....

FIRST CAMPING TRIP
What Food to Pack

Planning that first RV trip can be daunting. The Go RVing partners and consumer audience commonly ask "what do I need to pack for my first RV trip? Below is a checklist to making hitting road easy.

- Cereal / Milk
- Eggs / bread / bacon
- Sandwich meats / chips
  Steaks / Burgers / Hot dogs - anything you want to grill
- Buns for burgers / hot dogs
- Any veggies or salads you'll want with your barbeque
- Coffee / sugar / cream
- Sodas / beer / wine / bottled water
- Snacks
- Charcoal (or you can buy it at the campground store)
- Chocolate bars, marshmallows, graham crackers, long skewers / sticks for s'mores! (all are sold at the campground store too)
- There are typically grocery stores near most campgrounds to replenish supplies throughout your stay.
